

BAXTER CHAIR

Whimsical from some angles, serious from others, the Baxter is for those who appreciate the unexpected. The striking form uses two frames, each independent of the other. A solid beech external frame (with an option of oak) has a fine-grained texture providing an exquisite finish. The internal frame is constructed from MDF and beech, the strength and longevity of the latter timber ideal here. Careful consideration has also gone into the foam cushioning to support this frame. So, be it commercial or residential spaces, the compact Baxter is designed to create an impression. However, like all our furniture, it's to be enjoyed rather than just observed.
